

UNESCO King Hamad Bin Isa Al-Khalifa Prize for the Use of Information and Communication Technologies in Education

2021 Guidelines

Theme: The use of technology to enable inclusive crisis-resilient learning systems

The deadline for nominations: 18 February 2022

Contents

2021 theme	1
Who can apply?	1
Criteria	1
For Candidates: How to submit an application and ask for a nomination?	3
For Nominating Entities - National Commissions for UNESCO and NGOs in official partnership with UNESCO: How to nominate?	5

2021 theme

The disruptive effects of the COVID-19 pandemic have revealed the urgent need for governments to reimagine the future of schooling models and leverage technology to build crisis-resilient learning systems. Inclusive and crisis-resilient learning systems not only include connectivity and access to digital devices, but also the provision of age-appropriate digital content and digital skills training for teachers, students, and caregivers. In addition, the digitalization of learning systems must be guided by humanistic principles to ensure that technology protects human rights, and ensures inclusion and equity. Technology should be in the service of human interactions and capacity development.

The 2021 edition of the Prize will award projects that have built and implemented technology-enabled public learning systems and programmes that effectively ensured the continuity and quality of learning for all. The projects must ensure the data privacy and well-being of students, teachers, and caregivers. They must also consider the adoption of greening strategies to mitigate or neutralize the negative impacts of the technological solutions to internet connectivity and digital devices in education.

Who can apply?

Individuals, institutions, non-governmental organizations or other entities

Criteria

Eligibility criteria

- The project should be ongoing for at least for 1 year

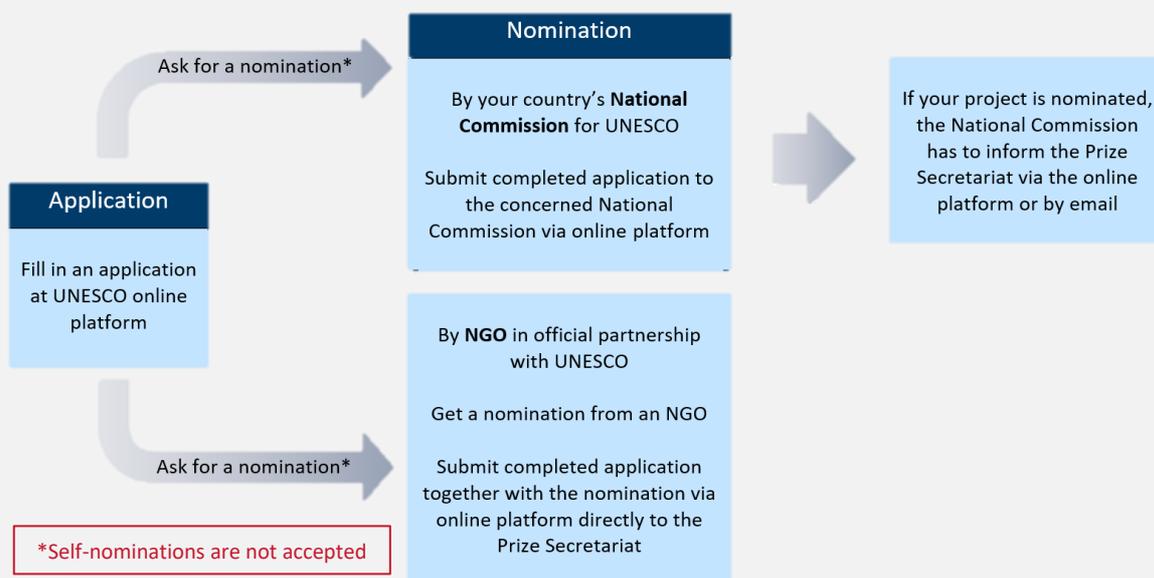

- The project and its organization should not be affiliated to UNESCO or receive any funding from UNESCO
- The technology tools used by the project should be open and free

Selection criteria

- Relevance to the Thematic Focus: The project is in line with the objectives of the Prize and is relevant to the specific theme of the year
- Innovation: The project applies innovative technologies to provide affordable and inclusive tools
- Evidence of Impact: The project should provide evidence of improved learning outcomes of the targeted beneficiaries
- Potential for Replicability and Scalability: The project should show evidence that it can be replicated in other contexts or have the potential to further optimize and scale its impact
- Inclusion and Equity: The project should use innovative technologies to advance inclusion and equity in education, while taking into account marginalized groups, learners in crises and emergencies contexts and learners with disabilities.

The Prize is not a grant scheme aimed at supporting new projects or organizations. The Prize is aimed at recognizing already implemented projects and activities or individuals/institutions/organizations for the creative use of new technologies in education, teaching and learning.

For Candidates: How to submit an application and ask for a nomination?

- Contact nominating entity: If your project/programme meets the criteria, please get in contact as soon as possible with an appropriate nominating entity to inform about your interest in applying for the Prize.

Check out: List of National Commissions for UNESCO;

List of NGOs in official partnership with UNESCO

- Create your account: Request a user account and indicate through which entity you will apply at : www.unesco.org/ict-ed-prize/register
- Go to the online platform accessible at www.unesco.org/ict-ed-prize and start filling in the online application form in English or French.
- Present your project/programme in a clear and structured way, following the instructions given in the form and respecting the indicated word limit. All supporting materials (e.g. publications, photos, videos) must be transmitted electronically through the online system.
- Ensure that your project is nominated

If you want to be nominated by your country's National Commission

If you want to be nominated by an NGO in official partnership with UNESCO

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ Fill in the application and submit it via UNESCO online platform for review and possible nomination of the concerned National Commission ➤ If selected, the National Commission will provide the nomination via UNESCO online platform and submit it to the Prize Secretariat ➤ Please note that a National Commission can nominate only up to 3 submissions We strongly recommend: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> * Contact your country's National Commission already while filling in the application * Some countries may have the national selection process and internal deadlines for submission. This is why it is essential to get in contact with the relevant National Commission from the very beginning of the application process in order to submit your application in line with the National Commission deadline and guidelines. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ Identify an NGO in official partnership with UNESCO ➤ Provide this NGO with information about your project and ask for a nomination ➤ Receive a nomination (in a form of a letter) and attach it to your online application ➤ Submit the application to the Prize Secretariat via UNESCO online platform
--	--

Please note that self-nominations cannot be considered. Any submission form not nominated by the National Commission or an NGO in official partnership with UNESCO will not be accepted by the Secretariat.

Difficulties in reaching an appropriate nominating entity: please contact the Prize Secretariat.

For Nominating Entities - National Commissions for UNESCO and NGOs in official partnership with UNESCO: How to nominate?

- 1. Screen your candidates: Inform all involved stakeholders and set up a selection committee or panel to screen the candidates.
- 2. Nominate up to three candidates: Select the three best candidates, whose projects are in line with the 2021 edition theme. You are encouraged to work with the candidates to prepare their submission forms.

National Commission for UNESCO	NGOs in official partnership with UNESCO
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ National Commissions can access the platform with their generic UNESCO accounts. To access the nomination form, the National Commission should: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Follow the link provided to the application or access the online platform here: www.unesco.org/ict-ed-prize • On the login page, enter the username (natcom.yourcountryname@natcom.unesco.org) • Enter the password associated with the UNESCO account of the National Commission. ➤ A National Commission can also initiate the process of nomination and submit an application on behalf of a candidate ➤ To nominate a candidate, the National Commission should edit the online form by entering a written recommendation in the appropriate fields, in English or French, and explain why the project of the candidate deserves the Prize (max 350 words). * If due to technical problems, the National Commission cannot access the online platform to provide the nomination, it can issue a nomination letter or inform the Prize Secretariat by email. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ If solicited by a candidate and wishing to submit the nomination, you should provide a nomination letter to be attached by the candidate to the online form ➤ An NGO can also submit an application on behalf of a candidate. To create and fill in the application, please see the guidelines for candidates.

Should you require any clarification regarding the application or nomination process, please directly contact the Secretariat of the UNESCO King Hamad Bin Isa Al-Khalifa Prize for the Use of ICT in education at UNESCO: ictprize@unesco.org

We look forward to receiving your nominations!